

Fig. 1. Graphic of a wireless sensor network, showing radio nodes in production areas, which can be used for local irrigation control, or with environmental sensors for model-based control decisions (From Lea-Cox, 2012).